

Kyoto Seika
University

Kyoto Seika University

Address : 137 Kino-cho, Iwakura, Sakyo-ku, Kyoto 606-8588, Japan

Website: www.kyoto-seika.ac.jp

Graduate Program

| Department | Major              | Course                                                                                                                              | No. of Accepted Applicants |
|------------|--------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------|
| The Arts   | The Formative Arts | Oil PaintingJapaneseTraditionalPaintingSculptureCeramicsDyeing & TextilesPrintmakingCinematic Media | 20                         |
|            |                    | Art Theory                                                                                                                          |                            |
| Design     | Design             | Visual DesignIllustrationGraphic DesignDigital CreationProduct DesignDesign Theory                              | 10                         |
|            | Architecture       | Architecture                                                                                                                        | 5                          |
| Manga      | Manga              | Applied MangaTechniqueManga Theory                                                                                          | 20                         |
| Humanities | Humanities         | Humane Studies                                                                                                                      | 10                         |

The above no. of accepted applicants includes students of Japanese citizenship.

Graduate Program

Master's ·

Doctoral Programs

|            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Art Theory | Major related fields of research are Oil Painting, Nihonga, Sculpture, Ceramics, Dyeing & Textiles, Printmaking, Cinematic Media, each program enabling a more in-depth study of artistic media and its function. |
|------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

|               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|---------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Design Theory | Major related fields of research are grouped into Design and Architecture. Through a practical, social, and experience-based approach to research, students learn the real-world applications of design and its effects on society. |
|---------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

|               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|---------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Manga Studies | With a multinational team of manga and anime researchers, graduate students cooperate with institutions such as the International Manga Research Center and the Kyoto International Manga Museum in furthering their studies. |
|---------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

|                |                                                                                                                                       |
|----------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Humane Studies | In a trans-disciplinary approach to social and cultural research, graduate students apply their studies to present day social issues. |
|----------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

All of the above information is taken from the “2020 University Entrance Examination Guidebook” published by Kyoto Seika University.